Foreword

The BC Labour Directory is an annual publication of the Policy and Legislation Branch of the Ministry of labour and Consumer Services which compiles information with respect to membership and officials of collective bargaining organizations in the province. The reference date for statistical information is January 1, 1991.

Information for this publication is obtained primarily from Statistics Canada's C.A.L.U.R.A. (Corporations and labour Unions Returns Act) Survey and is supplemented by information received directly from labour organizations in British Columbia. Every effort is made to obtain accurate and up-to-date information. The reliability of the information depends mainly on the accuracy of the respondents.

Particular attention is drawn to the union index at the end of the publication. Since some unions have locals with distinct and different names, and some unions are known by short names or initialism, this index is included to serve as a finding guide to the union listing including full and short forms, initialisms and local names.

We wish to thank all those who cooperated during the gathering of the information that went into the preparation of the BC Labour Directory. In the event that errors or omissions are discovered, it would be appreciated if they were brought to our attention (call 387-1776 in Victoria). The publication was produced by staff members Sharon Churchill and Patrick Stanton.

UNION MEMBERSHIP SUMMARY - 1991

In 1991, trade union membership in British Columbia reached 516,975 members. This total represented a 3% increase from the 1990 totals and was the highest annual total ever recorded in B.C. As a result of this increase, the overall proportion of the provincial paid workforce belonging to unions rose to 38.8%.

Four new unions have been added to this year's publication and several trade unions underwent organizational or structural changes which are reflected in the Directory. These include:

- Canadian Construction and Service Workers' Union
- Comet Storage Employees' Association
- Staff Association of the Regional District of Central Okanagan
- Transit Management Association

- Canadian Signal and Communications Union became System Council #11 of the IBEW
- Marine Maintenance Union became an affiliate of the BCGEU
- International Molders and Allied Workers' Union merged with Glass, Molders, Pottery, Plastics and Allied Workers International Union
- Comox Valley Printers merged with Graphic Communications International Union
- Goodwill Bottling Employees' Association changed its name to TCC Employees' Association
- Workers' Compensation Board Employees' Union changed its name to Compensation Employees' Union

A total of 25 trade unions in the province had a membership in excess of 5,000 in 1991 - these are listed in the accompanying Table 2. Not all of these larger unions recorded membership growth during the year. The BCGEU and IWA-Canada reported decreases this year but the HEU reported a substantial increase chiefly due to a difference in reporting procedure which more accurately reflects the large number of part time and casual members in the union.

Major trade unions posting membership gains of 5% or higher included CUPE, B.C. Teachers' Federation, HEU, Food & Commercial Workers, Operating Engineers, Machinists, OTEU, IBEW, PPWC and the UA. A few major labour organizations reported a decline in membership in 1991 compared to 1990. The trade unions included IWA-Canada (drop of 2550), the BCGEU (drop of 1547), United Steelworkers (off 635), Hotel and Restaurant Employees (down 472), United Fishermen (drop of 226) and CAIMAW (down 296).

Table 3 provides a breakdown of union membership by sex and lists those unions with a female membership exceeding 1,000. Overall, the number of women belonging to trade unions totaled 203,231 in 1991. This was an increase of 11,143 or 5.8%, and was almost five times the rate of growth experienced by male union membership (1.2% increase). Women now represent 39.3% of all union members within the province. The HEU, BCGEU, BCTF, CUPE and the BCNU were the unions representing the most women members. Each had over 20,000 women members and combined represented 60.2% of all female union membership in the province.

In Table 4, a breakdown of union membership information by industrial sector is provided. Overall, the numerical and percentage distribution of membership by industry shows only marginal change from the previous year, and such change as has occurred has tended to parallel industrial adjustments towards an expanding service sector of our economy. For example, union membership growth appears to have been most rapid in the Community Services sector of Education and Health and Welfare Services, where membership appears to have expanded by nearly 9%. Union membership in the Construction sector and in Transportation and Communications also expanded in 1991, by 6% and 15%, respectively.

Union Headquarters and Locals

This section contains membership and officer information for both headquarters and locals of unions in British Columbia. Entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the short name of the labour organizations although no official recognition of such abbreviated titles is intended. In those instances where a union's short name is derived from the initials of its full name, alphabetical listing is usually based on the first word in the full name. (For example CUPE comes under "Canadian Union" rather than under "CU").

Beneath the short and full title listing of each union is its affiliation, if any, to international and/or national congresses or federation. Abbreviations used are:

AFL-CIO	-American Federation of Labor -Congress of Industrial Organizations
CLC	-Canadian Labour Congress
AFL-CIO/CLC	-affiliated with both bodies
CFL	-Canadian Federation of Labour
CCU	-Confederation of Canadian Union
BC Fed	-British Columbia Federation of Labour
